INTRODUCTION AND DISCLAIMER

INTRODUCTION

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2 of 2000, generally known by its acronym “PAIA”, was promulgated by Government to give effect to the Constitutional right of access to information held by the state or by private bodies. PAIA prescribes how members of the public must exercise this right and how public and private bodies must respond to such requests, including when requests may or may not be refused.

This manual aims to provide information about the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development (DALRRD) to the public, as contemplated in section 14 of PAIA, in order to facilitate the accessing of records held by the DALRRD.

It is important to note that the information requested must exist in the form of a “record”, for example a physical document, a digital document, a map, a photograph, a digital recording, etc. PAIA cannot be used to request “information” which is not contained or recorded in some or other existing “record”.

This manual further contains information relating to the Protection of Personal Information Act, 4 of 2013 (POPIA). POPIA amended PAIA, which amendments came into effect on 1 July 2021. When a request for personal information is considered, these two Acts (PAIA and POPIA) must always be read together.
DISCLAIMER

All reasonable efforts have been made to ensure the correctness of the information contained in this manual, however, the DALRRD accepts no liability for information which may be incorrect or outdated. This manual will, however, be reviewed on a regular basis and any errors or shortcomings will be addressed as soon as possible. The contents of this manual are subject to PAIA, POPIA and all other laws which regulate the provision of access to records and information held by the state, including the fees prescribed by such laws. If there is any contradiction between this manual and the provisions of any law (for example PAIA, POPIA, any other Act of Parliament, a regulation, or a government notice), the provisions of the law shall prevail.

2. MANDATE, VISION, MISSION AND MEASURING OUTCOMES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, LAND REFORM AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT

2.1 The DALRRD is a relatively new Department, which became operational on 1 April 2020. The DALRRD is in essence a merger of the former Departments of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries (DAFF) and Rural Development and Land Reform (DRDLR), except for the forestry and fisheries functions, which became part of the Department of Environmental Affairs to form the new Department of Forestry, Fisheries and Environmental Affairs.

2.2 Mandate

The DALRRD derives its mandate from sections 24, 25 and 27 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 which can be summarised as follows:

- Section 24(b)(iii) (environmental clause) and 27(1)(b) (health care, food, water and social security clause) covers the agriculture value chains: from inputs, production and value adding to retailing.
• Section 25 (property clause), which establishes the framework for the implementation of land reform, and section 24 (environment clause);

• Section 27 (health care, food, water and social security clause) establishes the framework for the implementation of the Comprehensive Rural Development Programme.

2.3 Vision
The Vision of the DALRRD is to provide equitable access to land, integrated rural development, sustainable agriculture and food security for all.

2.4 Mission
The Mission of the DALRRD is to accelerate land reform, catalyse rural development and improve agricultural production to stimulate economic development and food security through:

• transformed land ownership patterns;
• agrarian reform;
• implementation of an effective land administration system;
• sustainable livelihoods;
• innovative sustainable agriculture;
• promotion of access to opportunities for youth, women and other vulnerable groups; and
• integrated rural development.

2.5 Measuring outcomes

• Improved governance and service excellence.
• Spatial transformation and effective and efficient land administration.
• Redress and equitable access to land and settlement support.

8. REQUEST PROCEDURE AND FEES

Anybody wanting access to records of the Department which are not automatically available must do the following:

- Complete the prescribed request form, attached to this manual as Annexure A.
- Describe the records that you are seeking access to as fully as you can. This will assist the Department in finding the records more easily. If you have the reference number under which the Department handled the relevant matter, provide the reference number, as well as the name of the official who dealt with the matter if you know it.
- Pay the prescribed request fee (currently R100*) at any office of the Department or into the Department’s bank account, unless you are of the view that you are exempt.
- The request fee (and any other fees payable in terms of PAIA, if applicable) must be paid into the following account, if not paid in cash at a DALRRD Office:
Bank: Standard Bank Tshwane Mid City
Account Number: 011 278 196
Branch Code: 010145
Account Name: DALRRD Miscellaneous Deposits

- Attach your receipt or other proof of payment of the request fee to your completed request form, and deliver or send the request form to the relevant Deputy Information Officer or other officials at the address indicated in paragraph 4 above.
- If you do not know under which Deputy Information Officer’s control the relevant records fall, submit your request form to the Office of the DG or the officials indicated in paragraph 4 above.
- If your request is granted, the relevant Deputy Information Officer will inform you of the access fee to be paid (this is also prescribed and will vary depending on the form of the records (e.g. paper (currently R1.50* per A4 page) or computer disks), unless you are exempted. The access fee must also be paid into the above-mentioned account.
- Once you have paid all the prescribed fees, the records will be provided to you, if the decision is to grant you access.
- If third parties must be given notice of the request and especially if the third party objects to the disclosure of the records, the above process will take longer.
- If your request is refused in totality or partially, or you object against the fees payable, you may lodge an internal appeal in the form of Annexure B to the manual.

* These fees are subject to change at any time by the Minister of Justice and Constitutional Development, and if changed, the new fees shall be charged notwithstanding the fees indicated in this Manual.
Persons who have an income less than the prescribed threshold are exempt from paying any fees. The threshold may change from time to time, but at the time of publication of this manual it is R14 712 per year (after permissible deductions such as PAYE and UIF have been made) in respect of single persons and R27 192 per year (after permissible deductions SUCH as PAYE and UIF have been made) in respect of married persons or life partners (Government Notice No. R. 991 of 14 October 2005).

10. ARRANGEMENTS FOR PERSONS TO PARTICIPATE IN THE FORMULATION OF POLICY, EXERCISE OF POWERS OR PERFORMANCE OF DUTIES

Interested persons may participate in the formulation of policy, the exercise of powers or performance of duties by the Department in various ways, e.g. through consultation, making representations, and serving as members of certain statutory bodies under the auspices of the Department.

The following are the more general mechanisms for such participation:

- During the formulation of major new policies, the Department often establishes reference groups or groups of stakeholders which are consulted on a regular basis and which actively participate in the formulation of policy.
- All Bills (new legislation) are published in the Gazette for public comment before it is considered by Parliament.
- Various offices of the Department from time to time hold public participation/consultation sessions on various issues, such as communal property associations, land restitution, land reform products, new policies, etc. Please watch the press for details. Identified interest groups will receive invitations.
Apart from the above general mechanisms, the following prescribed mechanisms also exist:

- The Deeds Registries Regulations Board includes two private conveyancers as members, who participate directly in the formulation of policy and legislative provisions on land registration matters. These conveyancers are nominated by the law societies and represent the conveyancing profession on the Board.

- The Sectional Titles Regulations Board includes the following persons as members:
  - A private conveyancer nominated by the law societies
  - A private professional land surveyor nominated by the relevant council
  - A private architect nominated by the relevant council
  - An officer in the employ of the Council of South African Banks, representing the commercial banking sector
  - Two other persons having special knowledge of sectional title development schemes (representing developers or attorneys)

These members are from the private sector or the public, and participate in the formulation of policy and legislative provisions on sectional title schemes.

- The South African Council for Professional and Technical Surveyors, which, among other things, advises the Minister on matters relating to surveying, includes members who represent the professional and technical surveying professions from the private sector.

- The Survey Regulations Board, which advises the Minister on regulations in terms of the Land Survey Act, 1997, includes members from the surveying profession in the private sector.

- The South African Council for Planners, which, among other things, advises the Minister on matters relating to the planning profession, includes members from the planning profession in the private sector and persons representing the interests of communities who are or may be affected by planning decisions.

- The Genetically Modified Organisms Act, 15 of 1997 established the Executive Council for Genetically Modified Organisms, the members of which may include two members of the public/interest groups. This Council advises the Minister of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development on all aspects of the development, production, use, application and release of genetically modified organisms and ensures that all activities relating to the development, production, use, application and release of genetically modified organisms are performed in accordance with the provisions of the GMO Act.

- Other statutory councils and boards (e.g. appeal boards – see paragraph 11) established by the Minister or Department also include members of the public with the necessary expertise on the subject matter.

11. RECOUSE IN RESPECT OF AN ACT OR FAILURE TO ACT BY OFFICIALS OF THE DALRRD

11.1 Some of the Acts administered by the DALRRD make provision for formal appeals against decisions of the relevant administrators in terms of such Acts, such as:

11.1.1 The Plant Breeders’ Rights Act, 15 of 1976

11.1.2 The Plant Improvement Act, 52 of 1976

11.1.3 The Animal Improvement Act, 62 of 1998
11.1.4 The Genetically Modified Organisms Act, 15 of 1997

11.2 The appeal processes and forms to be completed are contained in the above legislation or the regulations issued in terms thereof. Where an Act does not make provision for an appeal, an aggrieved person may take any administrative action taken in terms of an Act by an administrator of the DALRRD on review to a court with the necessary jurisdiction in terms of the Promotion of Administrative Justice Act, 2 of 2000.

11.3 There are a number of ways in which general queries and complaints can be brought to the DALRRD’s attention:

11.3.1 The first option is to try and resolve the matter directly with the official that you have been dealing with. If he or she does not address your query or complaint to your satisfaction, you may raise the matter with his or her supervisor or the head of the relevant office.

11.3.2 If that also fails, you can address a written complaint to the Office of The Director-General.

11.3.3 The DALRRD also has a call centre for the handling of all complaints and queries. The public can lodge complaints and queries to the DALRRD, through the call centre, by:-

   a) phoning 0800 00 7095 (the call will be toll free if made from a Telkom line);

   b) sending an e-mail to queries@dalrrd.gov.za;

   c) writing a letter to The Head: Call Centre, Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development, Private Bag X833, Pretoria, 0001; or
